

Alex Chemerinsky

achemerinsky@gmsr.com

+1 310 859 7811

Alex Chemerinsky leverages behind-the-scenes experience at all stages of litigation to help bring winning arguments on behalf of GMSR clients.

Before joining GMSR, Alex was a law clerk to federal district court and federal appellate court judges. During his clerkships, Alex drafted orders and opinions in major civil cases brought before the District of Arizona and the Ninth and Tenth Circuits. Prior to law school, Alex saw litigation from an administrative perspective while working in the clerk's office of the Louisiana Supreme Court.

Alex is a graduate of Harvard Law School. In his free time, Alex likes to write and speak about developing legal issues. His publications have appeared in the Oxford University Press, North Carolina Law Review, Tulsa Law Review, Los Angeles Times, and Bloomberg Law.

When Alex isn't untangling complex legal questions, he enjoys skiing and snowboarding (which he thinks he does quite well), and surfing (which he knows he doesn't).

Education

Harvard Law School (2021)

Tulane University (2016), BA Film Studies

Honors

Named in The Best Lawyers in America® "Ones to Watch" (Appellate Practice) (2026)

Bar Admissions

California

Speaking and Involvement

Section 230 in the Supreme Court, Federal Bar Association of Oklahoma City 2023

Notable Wins

EchoSpan, Inc. v. Medallia, Inc. (9th Cir. Oct. 31, 2025, No. 24-4751) 2025 WL 3046753
Oct 31, 2025

Publications

Misguided Federalism: State Regulation of the Internet and Social Media (2023) 102 N.C. L.Rev. 1

Jan 12, 2024

Tears of Scrutiny (2022) 57 Tulsa L.Rev. 341

Nov 25, 2022

Social Media, Freedom of Speech, and the Future of our Democracy: The Golden Era of Free Speech

Aug 05, 2022

Mass Shootings and Hate Speech—What Can the Government Do?

May 27, 2022

Op-Ed: Another bad Texas idea: Make it illegal to take down vicious social media content

Mar 18, 2022