Annie Guidroz joined GMSR as an Appellate Fellow after spending her last semester of law school as a law clerk with the firm. As an Appellate Fellow, Annie conducts legal research, assists in drafting briefs and articles, helps attorneys prepare for oral argument, and cite-checks briefs and motions.

Annie received her law degree from Loyola Law School, where she was a member of the Scott Moot Court Honors Board and earned awards for both written and oral advocacy in the ABA Regional Moot Court Competition. During law school, in addition to working at GMSR, Annie externed for the Honorable Stephen V. Wilson at the United States District Court for the Central District of California, and drafted habeas corpus petitions as an intern for the Loyola Project for the Innocent and Federal Public Defender's Capital Habeas Unit.

A New Orleans native, Annie enjoys cooking, traveling, and spending time with her dachshund Chance. She is happy to call Los Angeles home.
